No Paper Next Week.

Through the kind indulgence of generous patrons, it has long since become a universal custom with the country press to suspend publication during the Christmas holidays. We fall into the custom like goodlings take to water—very readily—inasmuch as it will give our faithful and industrious typists a brief season of rest, recreation and enjoyment; and also, afford our readers a refreshing respite from exhausting literary labors. The next issue of the JOURNAL will, therefore, appear on January 2nd, 1874. In the meantime, we shall not be idle—no rest remains for our editors. We shall busy ourselves in preparing one of the most interesting numbers for January 2nd, that ever left the press of a country office. It will contain, besides the usual weekly news, a carefully prepared review of the news—especially the local news—of the year. It will be of inestimable value to each and every subscriber as an index of the year's doings. We will print a number of extra copies of that edition, and make this liberal proposition to our patrons who have friends and relatives in the Western and Southern States, who were once citizens of this or adjoining counties.

If you send us the names and addresses of friends or relations who were once citizens of Lincoln or adjoining counties by the 21st inst., we will forward to such persons, post-paid, a copy each of the edition of the JOURNAL, published January 2nd, FREE OF CHARGE.

Commendable Enterprise.

Persons who live within a mile or two of good mills, fail to appreciate the convenience which was denied our pioneer fathers, who were compelled to carry their grain twenty-five, fifty, and even a hundred miles to have it ground. Such was the case, we believe, when the old Dudders mill, on Dix river, four miles East of Stanford, was erected. This mill is one of the latest and most improved, having been erected nearly a century ago, and for many years was the principal grist mill in this section of country. During that time it was known far and wide as the best mill in this part of the State, and patronized by citizens of Pulaski and other adjoining counties, forty and fifty miles distant. Its reputation, so well earned then, has been fully sustained since. During the past summer it became necessary to repair it, and the proprietors wisely concluded to give it a thorough and complete renovation, and supply it with new running gear, etc., also to erect a new dam which will stand through coming centuries. The dam is made of stone, cemented to the top, and so constructed that grinding may be done at any stage of water. Mr. Thos. White, of this county, was the master stone mason, and he is said to his credit that no more excellent piece of work can be found in the county. The mill now has all the modern and improved machinery necessary to do all the custom grinding of the surrounding country rapidly and well. It was started on Tuesday last, and turned out thirty bushels of meal per hour. The flour made at this mill has always found a ready market as a strictly family brand, and the proprietors have determined at all hazards to uphold this reputation. Appreciating the enterprise of the Dudders Brothers in establishing this necessary convenience for a large section of country, we think they have a right to claim a liberal patronage, and a just appreciation from their neighbors and friends, and we believe the citizens of the surrounding country will do themselves the credit to accord it to them. The machinery was constructed under the skillful supervision of Mr. W. N. Potts, of Madison, and adds very materially to his well-deserved reputation as a miller and millwright. Read the card of the Messrs. Dudders elsewhere.

BANK NOTICES.

The stockholders of the National Bank of Stanford, Kentucky, are hereby notified to meet at the office of said Bank on Tuesday, January 13th, 1874, to elect a Directors for the ensuing year. J. J. McROBERTS, Stanford, Ky., Dec. 10, 1873. CASHIER.

The Stockholders of the Farmers' National Bank of Stanford, Ky., will meet at the office of said Bank on the second Tuesday of January, 1874, for the purpose of electing a Directors for the ensuing year. J. B. OWLSLEY, CASHIER. STANFORD, KY., Dec. 24, 1873. 91-41.

We regret to hear of the serious illness of Mrs. T. M. Pennington. She is reported as improving this morning.

Printers' bills are said to be like faith, because they are the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.

The skill-throned dominions are rehearsing and singing their wailpipes to announce the midnight morn and usher in the festive morn.

Since the Christmas Sunday School has determined to give the little folks a feast during the holidays, it is in order for one of the other Sunday Schools to announce a Christmas tree.

The next term of the Garrard Circuit Court will commence on the 2nd Monday in February. The change was made by the Legislature last Winter, from the 4th Monday in January.

The physicians of Stanford have treated about one hundred cases of measles in town since its first appearance, about three weeks ago. There are now about twenty-five cases in town under treatment.

An exchange says it is announced by an eminent physician that it is not healthy to rise before eight o'clock in the morning. This applies, of course, to the men only. Wives rise at seven and start the fire as heretofore.

As you revel in good things and gather around the well-filled board to discuss the "fat of the land," remember the poor, and share with them from your abundance. "He that giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord."

Wilson and Dye, notorious for the murder of John R. Williamson, of Shelby City, were brought from Louisville Wednesday, the 17th inst., and safely lodged in jail in Danville. Their trial is fixed for the 23d of December.

To any lady who will send us two new subscribers and four dollars, we will present a box of fifty elegant visiting cards. Any person sending us five subscribers and ten dollars, will receive a copy of the JOURNAL one year gratuitously. 99ct

We are pleased to chronicle the fact that Mr. C. C. Colmear, brother of Captain C. C. Colmear, former popular conductor of the passenger train on the Richmond Branch, has received an appointment as Mail Agent on the Richmond Branch. Such an official has been badly needed for several years, and we hope hereafter to hear less complaints about the non-delivery of the mails on this route.

The first act of our worthy representative, Hon. T. B. Montgomery, in the General Assembly, was to get leave to bring in a bill for the further protection of sheep-rangers in Lincoln county. We hope the bill will show no mercy on the worthless canine species, and that it will be passed. One farmer in this county has lost more sheep by the nocturnal depredations of dogs than the whole race of yelpers are worth.

Know ye the printer's freight of joy? Know ye an hour more fraught with peace? Then ever felt the Mail of Christmas? Yes, the "merry mail"? "Tis not with words of solemn note his callings all but with merriment; nor yet, when brother printers quote the effusion of his blurt word print. But O! it is when the winter's fair, or clad in rain, or hail, or sleet, 'tis when he hears the welcome sound, "I've come to pay you for your paper!"

We notice from the huge and flaming posters recently issued by Jno. O. McAllister, that our people are to have one of those rare opportunities to purchase dry goods, clothing, boots and shoes, hats, notions, fancy articles, etc., at their own risks. He has determined to close out his stock, and expects to make a very great sacrifice. His auction will commence on Monday, December 22d, and continue from day to day until every article is sold. The ladies are especially invited to attend the sale.

Still they come. In our department respectfully and eagerly dedicated to the candidates for county offices will be seen the announcement of J. B. DENNIS, Esq., for Auditor. Mr. D. has been a Magistrate of the county for several years and is well and favorably known by citizens of all sections of the county. He is a deserving gentleman, and of the soundest Democratic principles, and will make a formidable opponent in the race for the office to which he aspires. Mr. J. Blain, the present incumbent, offers for reelection. We think no man can say ought against his past official conduct.

Johnston's Dramatic Troupe gave quite an interesting rendition of "The Streets of New York" last night to a small but appreciative house. The Peck Family also of so recent date inspired our citizens with a dread of being similarly taken in, hence the failure of Stanford to give the merited turn-out. What a misfortune that the house which bit at the Peck bait had not been present last night to enjoy a genuine treat. Many of the parts were rendered in a style that is rarely surpassed at the leading theatres. Puffy and Badger are trunks, and we hope to have a packed house tonight, to share our enjoyment of Tom Taylor's grand five-act play of "Ticket of Leave Man," and "Our Country Cousin," a date-splitting comedy. Tickets for sale at Bolton & Stage's drug store.

One of our ham-country composers (and it is universally conceded by the press that the JOURNAL has the handsomest, most moral, most intelligent and most accomplished corps of typists in the State) received by the Somerset Packet, the other day, a box, marked in feminine chirography, which contained a beautiful miniature mountain, artistically decked with evergreens, fern, ivy and mosses—a perfect paradeisus of the historic Jugum of Pulaski. The fair donor don't know how grateful this scene of Mercer aristocracy is, and how gladly he would drop his "stick" and flee like a buzzard to land timber—how at dusk he hies away to his flax-couch to dream of beautiful moonshine, white kids, artichokes, faded cottages, grocers' bills, wash-days, vine-clad cottages, faded cottages—and ah! no, she must not know these things!

RELIGIOUS.

Elder John I. Rogers, of Danville, has accepted the call recently tendered him by the Christian Church in Covington.

Elder C. K. Marshall will assume the pastoral charge of the Lexington Main Street Church on the first Lord's-day in January.

Elder John S. Shouse, a prominent and deeply beloved minister of the Christian Church, was removed from his house in Midway last week, to an asylum in Indiana, having lost his reason during a recent illness. It is hoped by his friends that his health will be restored, and with his health his reason.

Last Call.
I must have money or notes in settlement of my accounts, or warrants will be issued to the same immediately. W. H. ANDERSON, 92-2.

THE HOLIDAYS.

A Batch of Interesting Items.
Christmas comes but once a year, and what if the times are hard, who can afford to let the ever-festive season pass away without making the hearts of loved ones glad with some precious gift, and have behind him a sweet memory for others to bear him when absent?

Send to Dudders's mill for your Christmas fare.

Carson & Dadds keep only the best brands of fresh and cured oysters.

Commend us to the hotel or boarding-hatch, that uses Dudders's flour.

Some charming novelties in toys and Christmas goods at Bolton & Stage's.

Bolton & Stage are special agents of that chuffy old Saint, Santa Claus, call and see his stock of Christmas goods.

Hayden offers his entire stock of wall papers at prime cost, to make room for Spring papers.

A most magnificent and complete assortment of Christmas and New Year presents at Bolton & Stage's.

With a new outfit fit the Dudders Brothers are turning out a XXXXXXX family flour that is extra.

Ye nuptially determined monomaniacs, don't fail to order your honey-moon feed from Carson & Dadds.

At Bolton & Stage's drug store will be found a magnificent assortment of holiday goods, including candles, confections and fire works.

What more appropriate Christmas gift from a newly married man to his wife than a new set of furniture and new carpet. Go to Hayden's.

Remember the poor widow and orphan children during the holidays and send an order to Dudders's mill for meal and flour for them.

Hayden is keeping up his stock of clothing, boots and shoes, and fashionable hats. Every man and boy should treat himself to a new suit for the holidays.

Geo. D. Warren says bring on your dressed turkeys on the 23d, if the weather is favorable, at 9 cents per lb., one-half payable in cash and the other half in cheap groceries, etc.

Drop in at Carson & Dadds's confectionery and look at the tempting display of Christmas candies, confections and sweetmeats, neat kisses, tropical fruits, nuts and long-chaws.

Those who contemplate the marital estate should go to Chomali's and select for their adorned a beautiful engraved watch, a royal opera chain, an amethyst, stone cameo, emerald or topaz set.

Persons are often perplexed and undecided about making appropriate Christmas presents to their friends and kindred. The following memorandum will enable such to make their minds immediately: Give your wife a fine cook-stove with all the modern appliances; your son a fine shot gun and accoutrements; your daughter a fine set of table cutlery, a parlor stove, grate or handsome chamber set; your industrious farmer-boy a set of carpenter's tools, a cross-cut saw or an improved corn-sheller; your maid-servant a pair of Sunday shoes; your man-servant a fine pocket-knife or warranted axe. All these articles, or anything in the hardware line can be found at Osley & Hopper's.

Shall we have a Mongrel Ticket?

We call attention to a timely and suggestive letter from "H. L.," a leading citizen of the county, which we publish elsewhere this week. Shall we have a "People's Ticket" for next summer, composed partly of Republicans and partly of Democrats? For our part, and we don't assume to dictate to any party, or indeed to speak for anybody but ourselves, we are unqualifiedly opposed to any such movement. We cheerfully concede that there are gentlemen of the other party who could fill any of the county offices with credit to themselves and with satisfaction to the people. But we hope and believe that the Democratic party also contains available and satisfactory material for candidates. If it does, there can certainly be no necessity for applying for assistance to our Radical friends.

Have they ever set us such a generous example? Have they ever shown a preference for even a competent Democrat over an ignorant and unscrupulous member of the other party? Do they not invariably, as in South Carolina, for instance, stick to their candidate even if he be an illiterate negro, and vote against others, however intelligent, honest, or efficient he may be? They have not; and for the valid reason that any such course is suicidal to a political party. For the same reason we now demand a division of the spoils. We have an indisputable majority in the county, and if there be any reason why Democrats should not enjoy the meagre emoluments of the county offices, we are unable to see it.

Such a compromise is, in short, a foolish and gratuitous surrender of the party organization in the county; and it is the initial point of party disorganization. It is also the initial point of party disorganization. To keep a National party alive, alert and efficient, local organizations must be kept aloof from entangling alliances. They are the basis of party organization, just as the company is the basis of military organization. An army composed of mutinous, indisciplined and disorganized battalions is in no more pitiable and helpless plight, than a political party in this analogous predicament.

We ask the Democracy of the county to reflect before committing themselves. We are not attempting to dictate. We are merely a member of the party, and neither more nor less interested in the matter than our correspondent, or any other member of the party. Speaking, as we have said, merely for ourselves, we want a straight-out Democratic ticket, composed of such names as the party may select, and selected in such manner as the party may deem best. We have no axe to grind, and want it distinctly understood that as we are Democrats from principle, from principle we have nailed that party flag to our mast-head, and whether we sink or float, mean to keep it there. Still speaking for ourselves, we must decline, in any case, sailing "under two flags."

PERSONAL.

Col. T. P. Hill is in attendance at the Court of Appeals this week.

Mrs. J. S. Murphy, of this vicinity, one of the best of wives and amiable of mothers-in-law, is suffering a painful and distressing affliction.

J. M. Harris, who has been absent in Wayne for some days with his mother in her recent severe illness, has returned, and reports her convalescent.

Notice.
All persons indebted to the estate of Dr. George McRoberts, deceased, will please come forward and settle immediately. In my absence, J. J. McRoberts, Cashier National Bank of Stanford, is authorized to make settlement, receive all moneys and receipt for the same. THOS. McROBERTS, Adm'r. 92-3.

TODAY'S ITEMS.

R. E. Cross & Co.'s motto: "Quick sales and small profits."
N. Sid Platt never fails to please everybody who send him their orders for shirts or anything in the genteel furnishing goods line.

The goods sold by R. E. Cross & Co., are all of the latest style and manufacture, and are received daily from the New York market.

Everybody who visits the great emporium of R. E. Cross & Co., Louisville, and inquires the price of goods, never fail to make purchases at once.

When you send orders to Louisville for groceries, send to Wheat & Cheesey's, and they will receive prompt attention to your entire satisfaction.

A very nice and valuable Christmas or New Year present to make your wife would be a policy on your life in the Southern Mutual Life Insurance Company of Kentucky.

The trade of R. E. Cross & Co. continues to increase every day, and it is no surprise, for they have in their stock everything in the dry goods line any person could want, almost at their own price. Don't fail to give them a call when you visit the city, 300 and 302 Market street, near Eighth.

Robert W. Ramsey, the great steam boiler manufacturer of Louisville, makes a specialty of repairing boilers, sending the best of workmen at once to any point in the State upon the shortest notice. Make a note of this, and should any repairs be needed, send a telegram to Mr. R., and he will send out competent workmen at once to make them all right.

NEW COMERS.

On Friday night, December 12th, to the wife of E. D. Root, a daughter.

On Monday night, December 15th, to the wife of E. L. Carter, of this county, a fine, healthy boy.

MARRIED.

On the 17th inst., at the residence of the bride's father, in this county, Mr. Jas. O. Peters, of Garrard county, to Miss Mary T. Robinson.

On the 17th inst., at the residence of the bride's father, in this county, Mr. H. H. KIRKPATRICK to Miss REBECCA BASTIN.

On the 16th inst., at the residence of the bride's step-father, Lewis Russell, by Rev. W. L. Williams, Mr. Geo. Bennett to Miss SUGGESTED.

At the residence of Mrs. Lucy A. Karr in Madison county, Ky., on the 10th inst., by Rev. M. D. Reynolds, Mr. Joel J. Embery of Nashville, Tenn., to Miss Emma Karr. At the residence of the bride's father in the same vicinity, and on the same day, by Elder A. Adams, of Lancaster, Dr. H. Heath, of Georgia, to Miss Mary Embery.

Never did a more beautiful, bright, and lovely day dawn on such an occasion. "For them may life's calm stream untroubled run." And when the fountains of many happy waters shall have gathered around their brows, may the last days of their declining years be as bright as the day on which they united their destiny.

HOLIDAY AMUSEMENTS.

The ladies of the Christian Church of Stanford, at a meeting held Tuesday, determined to have, for the entertainment and gratification of the Sunday School children, a supper at the church on Friday, December 26th. Extensive preparations are now being made for the event, and members of the church are expected to contribute liberally to the success of the entertainment. We are always glad to chronicle anything which will promote the happiness of the little folks—especially good little Sunday School pupils. Endeavor heartily into the good work, parents and let the young 'uns have their full measure of innocent enjoyments.

We have examined the programme of the School Exhibition at Turnersville, and found it replete with entertaining plays, recitations, dialogues, comedies, and in fact, a variety of exercises, in the matter that our correspondent, or any other member of the party. Speaking, as we have said, merely for ourselves, we want a straight-out Democratic ticket, composed of such names as the party may select, and selected in such manner as the party may deem best. We have no axe to grind, and want it distinctly understood that as we are Democrats from principle, from principle we have nailed that party flag to our mast-head, and whether we sink or float, mean to keep it there. Still speaking for ourselves, we must decline, in any case, sailing "under two flags."

The Old Fellows of Stanford announce elsewhere that they will give an entertainment at the Court House, on Tuesday night, December 30th. This we know will be an enjoyable affair. A magnificent feast will be spread in the lower rooms of the Court House, where every dainty of earth, sea, and air, flesh, fish and fowl, creams, flowers and confections will be strewn around in enchanting confusion. Music, too, will lend their witcheries to make the occasion an enjoyable one. The mystic brotherhood will bring their vocabulary and emphasize their rhetoric. Beauty's radiant smiles, sparkling eyes and merry laugh, will throng the promenades. In response to the solicitations of many citizens, the goat-riders and greased-pole climbers will appear on the streets in a torch-light procession, the like of which was never seen in this country. The proceeds of the entertainment will be expended on the new Hall. Young men, pocket a V or an X, look some criminal to your side and 'ol' Old folks and young 'uns who want to spend a delightful evening, go!

From Judge Durham.

We received the following letter from our worthy Congressman, Hon. M. J. Durham, last week, with request to publish it.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 4, 1873.
I find upon inquiry at the proper Department that I have no public documents to distribute, because mine is regarded as the additional District in Kentucky, having been made of part of R. E. Cross & Co., and Reed's Districts, and they are all returned. Should Congress order documents for the new additional Districts, then I will distribute them among the people of the District.

Yours, etc., M. J. DURHAM.

Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Dr. George McRoberts, deceased, will please come forward and settle immediately. In my absence, J. J. McRoberts, Cashier National Bank of Stanford, is authorized to make settlement, receive all moneys and receipt for the same. THOS. McROBERTS, Adm'r. 92-3.

Emigration Turning!

The Atlantic & Pacific Railroad Company offers 1,200,000 acres of land in Central and Southwest Missouri, at from $2 to $12 per acre, on seven years terms, with free transportation from St. Louis to all purchasers. Climate, soil, timber, mineral wealth, schools, churches and law-abiding society invite emigrants from all points to this land of fruits and flowers. For particulars address A. K. Land Commissioner, St. Louis, Mo. 66ct

PULASKI COLUMN.

EDITED BY WILL. C. CURD.

SUNDAY, KY., Dec. 15, 1873.

REVIEW OF TOWN NEWS.
The work on our new townhouse is progressing rapidly, and from present indications our next Circuit Court can be held there.

The first section of the cupola is up and the roof is now ready to receive its metallic covering.

G. H. Ensel has removed his large stock of goods to Kendrick's brick corner. His house is large and commodious, and one of the best business rooms now in our town. Give him a call if you want good bargains.

One of our young Americans tested the explosive qualities of coal oil the other evening in Mr. H. H. Grange's store, by pouring a small quantity of it into a heated stove, the results of which was a terrible explosion, a loud report, two badly frightened boys, house full of smoke, and a large drum above the stove blown into fragments, but strange to say, no one was hurt.

Riley Wilson is now engaged building a residence adjoining his business house in our town.

Mr. Ed. Russell, of Danville, has returned and is now engaged in the completion of the brick work of our courthouse, and we are indeed glad to see such a favorable morning for his business.

Several of our merchants are closing out their goods at cost, while we find competition generally in the mercantile line of our town. The Sabbath Schools of the M. E. and M. E. Church South, have united on a Christmas tree at the M. E. Church, on the evening of the 24th inst.

The Ethiopian Club are practicing every evening and intend to make their concert during the holidays the most interesting entertainment ever given in our town.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Joe Dilbert and son, and Miss Mollie Duncan, are at present visiting their relatives in our town. The two former are from Texas and the latter a beautiful and accomplished young lady from Iowa, and of course we are not astonished at seeing several of our young gentlemen putting on so much style of late.

TO OUR WORTHY REPRESENTATIVE, Allen Jones, for late papers and other important public documents. May he meet with many warm friends during his sojourn at the Capitol; live high, get fat, and return to his home bearing a record to which no party or man can take exception.

COUNTY COURT.

A large crowd in attendance to-day, and but few wanting business of a legal character transacted—had the crowd been larger, our merchants are selling goods rapidly. But how could this be otherwise, when you can get cheaper bargains here than in any other town in Kentucky. Competition is the life of trade.

THE INGRAM HOUSE.

Was rented today for the term of twelve months, to John Haley, at the price of $200. The railroad is certainly coming.

THE PERSONAL PROPERTY.

Of Jos. Haskison sold at good figures. The estate of M. Doolin, deceased, sold to-day at low prices.

LIVE STOCK ITEMS.

Local Sales and General Movements.

LAND AND CHOP ITEMS.
Ambrose Buford, of Garrard, passed through town last Tuesday with a splendid lot of mules for the Southern market.

G. P. Ramsey bought last Saturday of Jas. Smith 25 head of light cattle at an average of $2 25 per cwt; 15 head the same day of Jas. M. Hall at 3c a pound.
